

Sales and Marketing at ApartmentLove.com

Thanks for your interest in our Sales and Marketing division!

We at ApartmentLove™ leverage all types of marketing techniques in order to grow and expand our presence in a fiercely competitive marketplace. As a member of one of our Sales and Marketing teams you'll be responsible for overseeing an entire region which could include multiple major markets in both Canada and the United States.

Working with our chief strategists you'll design, implement, manage and ultimately be held accountable for all new and creative campaigns targeting audiences in your many markets. Best of all, you'll have the freedom and control to adjust your campaigns to ensure that our promotional efforts are constantly in line with the ever changing needs and wants of an evolving marketplace.

Role of Manager, Sales and Marketing is to generate business by continually building interest and excitement in our inventory of available rental properties. In a round-about way, marketing is kind of like our "cost of goods". The more efficient we can make our marketing the more profitable the business becomes, it's really just that simple.

Because we're always in the market and looking to expand our Sales and Marketing divisions, please send a copy of your resume to careers@apartmentlove.com. Make sure to set the subject of your email to "Sales & Marketing" and to tell us what experiencing "Apartment Love" in your own life has been like.

Yours truly,

